

CHURCHES HERE OBSERVE BIBLE'S TERCENTENARY

Anniversary of King James's Version Is Commemorated in Protestant Pulpits.

At the various local churches yesterday the 300th anniversary of the King James version of the Bible was appropriately observed. The theme of the Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Villers at the Peddie Memorial Church in the morning was "How We Obtained Our English Bible."

The pastor delved into the earliest history of the sacred work, and showed wherein lie the invaluable and inspiring teachings that have spiritually regenerated the Christian nations of the world. Special music was rendered by the soloists, Messrs. Van Natta and Crain.

At the Church of the Redeemer in the morning the Rev. Dr. Rose spoke on the topic, "God Speaking in the Bible, or the Message of the Unseen to the Seen." He attributed the enlightenment and remarkable progress of the people to the great truths and encouragements that were a heritage of a perusal of its pages.

Its Message Is One of Hope.

The message contained therein was one of hope, inspiration and promoted an unquenchable desire to attain that imperishable life—everlasting spiritual life, of which the unseen assures the faithful ones here. The Bible is the means through which God reaches us and makes us understand.

Similar services in commemoration of the tercentenary of the Bible were held in the South Park Presbyterian Church, the first Congregational Church, the Grace Episcopal Church, the Fifth Baptist, the Bellevue Avenue Congregational, the West Presbyterian and the Elizabeth Avenue Presbyterian churches.

TAFT IN PULPIT URGES UNITARIAN CENTRAL CHURCH

Tells Washington People That It Is Time for Them to Open Pockets.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—A plea to all Unitarians to stand forth and aid the faith and to provide in Washington "a principal church" to correspond with the cathedrals of other denominations was made in remarks by President Taft yesterday at the regular service in All Souls' Unitarian Church, of which he is a regular attendant.

The President said that to some people it may not seem a necessary task to have a church which should show forth what Unitarianism is to the country. "Anyone who has run for office," said he, "and has received telegrams from various parts of the country saying, 'It is reported here that you are a Unitarian; telegraph at once to silence this outrageous report,' will understand the necessity for showing what Unitarianism is and that it is progressive Christianity, illustrating and carrying forward as the supreme ideal the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man."

Time to Open Pockets.

"Now I believe this is a time for us to open our pockets, and if we haven't the money in them to assume some obligations ahead with a view to making this monument to liberal religion a suitable one in the capital of our nation."

Though a temporary resident among you, and one who will only have the privilege of worshipping in this church for a short time, I venture to urge that we all, residents or non-residents, assume a burden and sacrifice something substantial that this home for preaching broad, liberal and tolerant Christianity shall be worthy of the cause."

He urged all to aid the church, saying that Washington is growing to be more and more the center of thought in this country, "typical of the whole country," "a city beautiful," where "may well be established a nucleus for liberal religious thought and education—a church typifying broad, liberal, a tolerant, Christianity."

WATCHMAN HAS THRILLING TALE OF BOLD BURGLAR

East Orange Police Unable to Corroborate Private Officer's Story—3 Other Robberies.

The Sunday night burglar who has been paying many visits to East Orange homes of late was abroad again last night and one watchman believes he spotted him at work in the lower end. The watchman shot at the fellow twice, but missed. There were peculiar incidents connected with this, however, which Chief O'Neill intends to investigate further.

Watchman Dunn was going on his rounds near Nineteenth street at 2:45 this morning and when four houses away from the residence of W. B. Shotworth, at 165 North Nineteenth street, he heard a noise and saw a man at work on a rear window.

Dunn said he ran for the burglar and fired twice at him, but the man went over a rear fence and got away. He met Policeman Harry Gamble later and told him of the affair and handed over a heavy two-ply "jimmy," which, he said, he found beneath the window. The "jimmy" is of a pattern which up-to-date burglars carry in their kits.

Mrs. Shotworth told Reserveman Edward Williams today when he investigated that she believed the attempt a "fishy affair," and asked the police to investigate thoroughly. Williams found no marks in the soft earth to indicate where anyone might have secured a fence, and one "jimmy" mark on the window was made by a smaller tool than the one found. Mrs. Shotworth's house is not included in the list of Watchman Dunn, but he had asked Mrs. Shotworth to have him watch the place nights. Chief O'Neill will have an interview with Watchman Dunn, who is a retired New York policeman.

Three Other Places Entered.

Three other places were entered during the evening. The home of W. M. Kremetz, at 182 Harrison street, was entered by a burglar who secured a ladder in the neighborhood, and while the family were at dinner went through an open window on the second floor.

A bureau was in the room where the burglar entered, and opening one drawer after lighting a match he secured a small jewel case containing jewelry valued at several hundred dollars, and left.

The home of Frederick R. Hasselman, at 192 Harrison street, was entered between 4 p. m. and midnight. Mr. Hasselman left the gas lighted in the hall when the family went out, but it had been extinguished when he got back at 12:45 this morning. The glass in a side porch door was broken and the catch forced. Reserveman Shannon found a bureau ransacked on the second floor, but nothing was missing.

Chief O'Neill and his men have been working hard trying to clear up the various robberies and are hoping for success.

The Electrical Garage Company in Harrison street was robbed of $11 last night also.

TURN THOUSANDS AWAY FROM NEW CATHEDRAL.

Throngs Cannot Even Enter New York Church.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Ten thousand persons were turned away from the newly-consecrated Cathedral of St. John the Divine last night, while throngs filled every niche of the spacious structure at a meeting to further the ratification of the proposed arbitration treaty between Great Britain and the United States.

Jacob G. Schurman, president of Cornell University; Bishop Greer, of the Protestant Episcopal Church; the Rev. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity Church, and the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, of the Broadway Tabernacle, spoke for peace among nations.

"President Taft has given a practical beginning to the movement for reform," said Dr. Schurman. "I see nothing insuperable in the project of such arbitration treaties with Great Britain, with France, with Russia, with Germany and other European powers."

MGR. WHELAN DEDICATES POLISH PARISH SCHOOL.

ELIZABETH, April 24.—Attended by many priests and thousands of laymen and women, St. Adelbert's parochial school was dedicated yesterday and its corner-stone laid by Monsignor Isaac P. Whelan, pastor of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Newark. Monsignor Whelan expressed great pleasure at the progress of the Polish race in the city, as evidenced by their building of a fine new church a few years ago and the building of the new school, which will be completed in a short time. The Rev. John Dziadosz, of Trenton, spoke in Polish. There was a parade of societies before the ceremonies. A score of Polish priests attended.

BIBLE TRANSLATORS USED BETTER ENGLISH THAN WE.

BOSTON, April 24.—That the men who translated the King James Bible 300 years ago knew how to use the English language better than any body of scholars that could be gathered together in the whole world today is the opinion of President William H. P. Faunce, of Boston University. Speaking at the Bible Tercentenary meeting, in Trinity Church, last night, Dr. Faunce said:

"Men knew how to use language then as we know how to use edged tools today. We can't equal them. We know too much to be simple. We have too many doubts to be so sure; we are too conscious of the verdicts of critics to aim straight at the hearts of the people. Since 1611 no man in England or America has written in such direct or simple style as these Bible translators, save John Bunyan and Abraham Lincoln—the latter in his second inaugural and Gettysburg addresses."

A delayed advertisement brings only the utterance of trade. It is the first call that captures the attention of customers.
